ROOSEVELT AT CHICAGO. He Predicts Republican Success-

Speaks in Illinois To-Day. CHICAGO, Oct. 7 .- Governor Roosevelt spent the greater part of the day with Senator Hanna, talking over plans for the campaign, and to-night was dined by the Republican national managers at the Chicago Club. Among those present were United States Senators Fairbanks, Beveridge, Hanna, Cullom and Spooner. Mr. Roosevelt, in addressing the guests, reviewed his Western trip and predicted success for the Republican ticket.

ing an active interest in the first voters of paign. He believes the first voter will cut much more of a figure this year than he has in any campaign since accurate figures and polls have been kept by the Republican party. Concerning the first voter the State chairman makes the following "Inasmuch as this will be a week in In-

I congratulate them most heartily on the good work they have done so far in the campaign. They are standing for the honor of their country and the prestige of the American flag. They are standing up for the soldiers in the Philipines. They believe in developing their country. These young men are the flower of the State and the Republican party of the country. They are interested in Governor Roosevelt, who is a fitting reprethe sturdy this country and more fitting leader for the young men could not be found. He is the beau ideal of every young man of energy and intelligence who believes in America and her institutions and who has the best interests of his country at heart. He contrasts Governor Roosevelt, candidate for Vice President on the Republican ticket, with Mr. Stevenson, the candidate for Vice President on the Democratic ticket, and what a contrast it is! This contrast would do for every voter of the whole land to rest his mind upon every week. It is a good subject for investigation and consideration, and I honor the young man who has cast his lot with Roosevelt, that great eader of young men, who has carved his own fortune and own political advance-

The offer created quite a stir in the ranks of glass workers. The independent factories are proving an important factor in the settlement of the trouble in the window glass trade.

Oil Prospects in Egypt.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. KOKOMO, Ind., Oct. 7 .- Clarence Smith, one of the Indiana gas belt drillers, who went to Egypt last year to prospect for oil in the land of the ancient Pharaohs, is home again. The drillers are in the employ of a syndicate of capitalists, including Harrison Bros., zinc dealers, of Philadelphia, the other members being Lord Palmer, of England, and Pasha Nubar, an Egyptian. Mr. Smith says three wells have been drilled to a depth of 1,600 feet in the Nubian desert, 250 miles southeast of the port of Suez, and forty miles from water. A small quantity of ofl was found, but the prospect for paying quantities is not flattering. The drills are still going, however, Mr. Smith being the only one of the party to return home. "Archbishop Ireland, in his interview with the Holy Father, was instructed to say to all friends in America for the Holy Father: 'I am delighted with the condition of affairs in Porto Rico, Cuba and the Philippine islands with respect to the Cath-olic Church. It is the blessing of blessings that the great Republic of America has assumed the sovereignty of these islands, and I believe the great Nation is the instrument of God to rule over these islands and preserve whatever civilization there is of the 400 years.'

Mr. Kerens has had further cable communication with Archbishop Ireland, and furthermore he has been in constant communication with Cardinal Gibbons, who is following statement:

"I cannot understand why the Democratic press should persist in misrepresenting the position of so many people concerning the contest in this campaign. Prominent prelates of the Catholic Church seem to be the especial object of these misrepresentations. Only the other day it glowing headlines throughout the Democratic press of the country, that Archbishop Ireland had declared himself as dissatisfied and renounced President McKinley. and would support Mr. Bryan for the presidency. Naturally the American people Archbishop Ireland has always been a consistent opponent of Bryanism as hurtful surprise, therefore, when the archbishop. on learning that his position had been misrepresented, gave out an interview in London in which he took strong and uncompromising ground in support of the Republican ticket, and expressed the wish that President McKinley should be re-elected. esterday the same Democratic press published with sensational headlines a statement to the effect that his Eminence, Cardinal Gibbons, had declared himself in President. Of course, Cardinal Gibbons cannot be expected to rush into print and deny the irresponsible statements that may iblished in partisan newspapers. That would be beneath the dignity of his high office, and repugnant to the cardinal's quiet demeanor. I am absolutely confident the Republican party is not engaged in misrepresenting the position of any man in this campaign, and it is incomprehensible to me that the Democratic press should persist in giving out erroneous ideas of the attitude of such distinguished men as Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop Ireland and

Baltimore Democrat Tells Why He

Will Again Oppose Bryan. BALTIMORE, Oct. 7 .- Captain J. Southgate Lemmon, one of Baltimore's leading lawyers, who served in the Confederate army and always affiliated with the Democrats until Mr. Bryan was nominated to run on the Chicago platform, has made the following statement on behalf of himself by the Chinese Empress establishing her and a number of his friends, explaining | court at the ancient capital, Si-Nan-Fu. why Mr. Bryan is even more dangerous now than he was in 1896: "I voted against Mr. Bryan in 1896 because of my opposition to the silver plank and other disquieting theories which were mposed upon the party by the Populists and Communists who controlled the Democratic party and sought to cater to all who oppose law and order in this country. Since then I have found all my objections to Mr. Bryan and his present platform, dictated by him to an unwilling but subservient convention, intensified by his speeches, which appeal to the passions and for McKinley then as a choice of evils without being able to approve of him or his party in many particulars. I thought him weak when he yielded his own judgment and approved the declaration of a war of aggression against Spain under the pressure of his own party, backed by the Democrats of the South. "Congress, however, ordered that war by particularly unanimous vote, and since that war was ordered I am not aware of any official act of the President which I can justly define as illegal or imperialistic, and amid all the denunciation of his administration I have not heard any one act of his mentioned that fairly can be so specified. He acted under authority of Congress in both waging the Spanish war and in repressing the outbreak of Aguinaldo, and in the latter has complied only with his duty as our executive in upholding the authority of the United States. "The treaty of Paris, which gave us the Philippines, was negotiated in part by that eminent and sterling Democrat Senator Gray, of Delaware. The treaty was ratined under the personal influence of Mr. Bryan himself by Democratic votes in the Senate, and the islands were paid for by an appropriation made by Congress in which Democrats concurred. The army now in the East was enlarged by Congress Spanish treaty portended imperialism Mr. Bryan should have opposed the one and have defeated the other. If he agreed with the President then he should at least remain silent now and not seek to make political capital out of his own political blunder or crime-blunder if he was not wise enough to see what he now says is plain, and crime if he saw and, seeing, sanc-

"We practically know the worst to expect from McKinley, while the dangers attendant upon the vagaries of Bryan, spurred on by Altgeld, Tillman and other similar 'leaders' who now control the Democratic party, cannot be estimated.'

BRYAN'S RICH PICKING

SAVING THE COUNTRY AT THE RATE OF $2,000 A DAY.

Charged Anderson $300-His Tarix Reform Would Close Every Mill in the Gas Belt, Workmen Say.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. ANDERSON, Ind., Oct. 7 .- The Anderson Herald said this morning: "In his speech have been the candidate of my party for the presidency I can make a living for myself and family easier than most of the men responsible for this administration: These Democrats have found out what Bryan meant by this. Bryan made the fork. The archbishop also cabled to Mr. | local central committee shell out an even Kerens that Archbishop Keane, of the $600 for his work Friday in this county. Of this $300 was charged to Anderson and assessed the three cities according to the charges made and the money was paid over. One of the stipulations of the contract entered into by Bart Campbell was that there should be no delay about turning over the money, and the train that hauled Bryan out of the county hauled away six hundred Madison county dollars.

"Friday was a big day for Bryan. The day he was here four years ago he gleaned $1,800. But on Friday he beat the record by from $300 to $400. So it is at the rate of $2,000 a day that he is trying to save the country from imperialism and the laboring men from the galling yoke of a protective tariff that gives them work. He stopped engagement to Andrew Carnegie to act as I also claimed by the Bryanites, and to-night | at thirteen towns Friday. They were charged $150 each where short stops were made, and the price at other places ranged from that figure to $300, the charge at Anderson. Muncie and Richmond got tolerably long stops and coughed up $200 apiece.

"The Democrats of Alexandria are especially warm. Bryan was to have stayed there a half hour, but on account of the was announced, with a great flourish and | train being late he stayed but fifteen minutes. Yet no deduction was made. The $150 had to be produced just the same. In addition to the bitterness caused by the conditions outlined above, Mr. Bryan's declaration that he would, if possible, take the tariff off all trust-made goods, and thus were surprised at this announcement, for | close all trust factories has caused a reaction against him. The glass workers and tin-plate workers, as well as those in the to American institutions. It caused no iron and steel industries in Madison county. are denouncing in unmeasured terms his proposition to wipe out the protective tariff on the industries here, which are controlled or managed by the so-called trusts. It is but a few years since that the window glass workers, to a man, were driven to the Republican party by the cut in their wage scale of 221/2 per cent, by the Wilson tariff bill, and the wiping out of all protection would be to cut their scale more than in half. It would affect the independent favor of the election of Mr. Bryan for plants as well, so to remove the tariff would concern all operatives. The same thing applies to other protected industries which flourish in the gas belt, as nowhere else in Indiana.

> The operatives can be found in groups about the streets and in their club rooms, discussing this proposition of Candidate Bryan in anything but a complimentary manner. It is a conservative estimate that more than 2,000 voters, in Madison county alone, would be disastrously affected by such a measure of administration as the one proposed by Mr. Bryan.
